Pastor's Message

by Pastor Michael C. Linderman, Ph. D.

There's a great quote about worship that I happened upon accidentally. It comes from the PBS show, "Call the Midwife" (which I have yet to watch). Sister Monica Joan, the lead character who is a Roman Catholic nun, says, "The liturgy is of comfort to the disarranged mind. We need not choose our thoughts; the words are aligned, like a rope for us to cling to." I couldn't agree more. What a relief it is to Christians that at the end/beginning of a long week, we can gather together to grab onto the words used in our Christian worship, cling to them, and be pulled thereby into the Spirit's tether. A great comfort, indeed!

As we enter the Advent season this month, I want to re-invite you to experience the comfort of worship and its expression of faith in Christ's mercy by attending regular worship on Sunday mornings. I also want to invite you to experience three special services that are intended to help us through the frenetic schedule of our culture's countdown to Christmas. These are our traditional Christmas pageant (Dec 15, 9:15am), the Ramsey Community Advent Lessons and Carols (Dec 15, at Redeemer, 3pm), and our community 'Awaiting the Light' service (Dec 22, 3pm).

This year, our Christmas pageant format is new because we are setting the pageant within the normal service of Holy Communion. This way, the work of the children in presenting the story of Christ's birth, and its importance for our faith, is used to prepare the congregation for Holy Communion, where we believe Christ is most clearly present in our lives. The community Advent Lessons and Carols service provides us and our local Christian neighbors with a deeper appreciation of the way Christ's birth fits into God's Salvation history, and helps us prepare for the "advent" of our Lord, both in history and at the end of time. The 'Awaiting the Light' service is designed to address the power of nostalgia and grief in our lives, particularly for those who find the holidays a challenge. It wraps this longing in the promises of Christ's coming and invites us into the "hope of Christ."

Advent is a time, like Lent, in which to enter with new vigor into the spirituality of the tradition. Like the quote above says, the liturgy (tradition) lines up words for us to use, and like a rope we can cling to, supports us in our spiritual journey. Is your journey disrupted by the ebb and flow of everyday life? Has your faith felt dry or burdened by questions, doubts and anxiety? Are you feeling "disarranged" in your thinking because of the chaos of our political and social lives? Then, through the worship traditions of the Church, God's help is here for you. Grab the rope and let God's grace to the work.

Faith Formation Views

by Stephanie Doyle, Faith Formation Director

On Friday, November 15th – Sunday, November 17th Pastor Linderman, Stephanie Doyle and Jennifer Hommez brought 18 middle and high school students to the NJ Synod Youth Assembly at Fairview Lake YMCA Camp in Stillwater, NJ. 183 participants and adult leaders attended the event from all over NJ. The theme was “Be: Be You, Be Engaged, Be Loved, Be Sent.”

Pastor Linderman led the synod band, which played many favorites over the course of the weekend. Stephanie and Jennifer were small group leaders for a group of middle school students from different parts of New Jersey. In small groups the students played games, read Bible stories, completed activities, including creating their own videos, and prayed together. For Stephanie and Jennifer, the small group time was the most meaningful part of the weekend. Saturday afternoon the students traveled to different stations and activities around the property as part of a Faith Fair. You can see some of the photos from the scavenger hunt on Redeemer’s Facebook page and below in this newsletter. There was worship both Saturday night and Sunday morning. And of course there was sleeping in cabins, eating in the dining hall, and plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

Sunday morning, Pastor Lee Zandstra asked the participants where they saw God that weekend. Many kids and a few adults went to the microphone and shared meaningful thoughts and reflections about the weekend. Stephanie asked the Redeemer’s youth and this is what some of them said:

I liked small group, particularly making the video about Jesus calling people to make disciples. – Caeden, grade 7

I had a great time and liked everything! – Chad, grade 6

My favorite part was learning about how our church can have an impact on the world around us. – Colette, grade 8

I thought the most special part for me at the NJ Synod Youth Retreat was the prayer/worship stations late on Saturday night. This was very important to me because it gave me a sense of direction, and it helped me to remember that people can care about you, and they will help you to the best of their abilities. I prayed with Pastor Lee, and I felt a sympathetic connection that was very special. I enjoyed the Youth Retreat very much, and I plan on going next year. – Elise, grade 8

I loved the songs, seeing friends from confirmation class, and late night worship. – Lily, grade 9

My favorite part was meeting up with the friends I met at last year’s NJ Synod Retreat. – Mackenzie, grade 9

I liked the music and playing in the Synod band. – Mira, grade 10

My favorite part was being in the cabin with new and old friends. – Morgan, grade 8

I liked getting to relax by the lake during free time. – Sam, grade 7

My favorite part was the music and the singing. – Trinity, grade 7

Music News: Their Voices Join Your Singing

by Fran Morton, Redeemer Music Director

We've just finished Ramsey's first ecumenical service of 2019 - Thanksgiving at St. John's Episcopal Church. Choir members from St. John's, First Presbyterian, Redeemer and St. Paul's sang; clergy from those churches offered readings and prayers for an hour on Sunday afternoon. Truly a wonderful way to usher in the first season of the 2020 Liturgical year. If you missed it (and other than choir members, Pastor Michael, Dean and Mickey, Stephanie and me most everyone from Redeemer did miss it), you skipped a great experience. One of the choir anthems needed three soloists - Redeemer supplied two of the three - Jen Hommez and Steve Koestner. They sounded wonderful.

True, you missed a really good ecumenical service, but no need to despair. Yet in 2019 there are two more opportunities, both of them hosted at Redeemer. Mark your calendar and be sure to attend:

•December 8th 3PM at Redeemer. Advent Lessons and Carols. I'm sure some of you have watched the Christmas Lessons and Carols from King's College, Cambridge. This is the same idea-readings, anthems and congregational singing only moved back a season to Advent. Come and join us! There will be plenty of opportunity to sing seasonal carols as well as to listen to the readings and combined choirs.

•December 22nd 3P at Redeemer. Awaiting the Light is a low key meditative service designed for those who find the holidays a challenge or who just need a break from the busy-ness of holiday preparations. There's music, singing, readings and time for reflection.

Ecumenical services such as these provide an excellent opportunity for the Ramsey community to gather at important holiday times to share. All Redeemer people who come enjoy these services, and the choir loves to sing in them. All that's missing is for you to come and join us. We look forward to seeing you at the remaining two services for 2019.
